Something About Our Relations
With Canada.

HON. J. W. FOSTER INTERVIEWED.

Recent Negotiations on the Reciprocity and Fishery Questions Spoken of to a
United Press Reporter—Other Subjects
Discussed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Hon. J. W. Foster, who has had charge of the state department for the recent negotiations with Canada on the reciprocity and fisheries questions, communicated to a representative of the United Press last night some interesting facts supplementary to the message the governor general of Canada laid before the Dominion parliament yesterday.

He said the paraphrase on Lord Stanley's message stating that arrangements had been reached for an international commission to frame regulations to prevent destructive methods of fishing might naturally be supposed to refer to the Behring sea controversy, but in fact it had nothing to do with the sealing question. It related only to fishing and the proper methods of taking fish on the great lakes, and in international waters on the Atlantic ocean. Each of the states bordering on the lakes, New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Ohio had its state laws to regulate fisheries, but no two laws were alike and none could be enforced in Canadian waters.

It had been agreed to appoint a commission to consist of one expert from each county to devise regulations to control the use of seines, etc., in the great lakes, and also the use of purse seines in the Atlantic. There had been complaints of the pollution of the streams running from Maine into Canada by sawmills and manufacturing. The commission would be authorized to look into this question, and also, incidentally into the matter of international fish hatcheries. On all these matters the commission would be authorized to investigate and report.

There was another question, Mr. Foster said, of considerable interest to New England which had been agreed upon and which was not mentioned in Lord Stanley's message. It will be remembered that there had been serious trouble last summer in the vicinity of Eastport, Me., in consequence of seizure by Canadian cruisers of American fishing vessels alleged to be fishing within Canadian limits. It had been agreed to appoint another commission distinct from the one previously referred to, to define and mark the boundaries of United States and Canadian jurisdiction at this point. The Alaska boundary in question, upon which agreement had been arrived at, was explained by Mr. Foster to be in the nature of a joint survey from Mount Elias along the Pacific coast to British Columbia. An appropriation had been made by the United States for this purpose, but it needed the joint action of Canada and the United States to make it binding. This conference had now been secured.

When the question of reciprocity with Canada was touched upon, Mr. Foster suddenly became reticent. He said the correspondence on this subject had been called for by the senate and would probably be sent into congress early next week. As to this, however, he had no right to speak. It was inferred, however, from Mr. Foster's manner, that on this subject there would be exceedingly little progress reported.

SEPARATE CAR LAW.

Constitutionality of the Louisiana Act
Will Be Tested by a Colored Man.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 26.—The constitutionality of the separate car law, known as "Act No. III of the session of 1890," will be tested in the local courts shortly. The law has been denounced right and left by the colored people of the state, and Thursday considerable excitement was caused by the arrest of D. F. Desdunes, a young colored man, and son of D. Desdunes, the well known colored Republican leader. Desdunes had taken occasion to test the law. This morning he boarded the Louisville and Nashville train and refused to leave the car set aside for the white people. He was promptly ejected from the train and lodged in jail. He was arraigned on a charge of violating the act, and was released on bail to await hearing. The case has attracted considerable attention among the legal lights, but there seems to be no doubt entertained but that the law will stand.

More Police Needed.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Feb. 26.—The wholesale assaults by highwaymen upon inoffensive citizens has caused a stir in official circles, and it develops that the police force is not sufficient to cover the city as it should be. It is understood that an effort will be made to resurrect the law and order league, an organization which accomplished much good some years ago, when the gambling evil was in full blast. Several of the leaders of that organization are still here, and they are determined men, who fear nothing. In the event that the league is again called into service the city will be patrolled after nightfall and suspicious characters will be called upon to give an account of themselves.

A Presidential Vacation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The president, accompanied by Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. McKee and her children, will leave Washington next week for Virginia Beach. The party will be absent about a week. The president has worked constantly since November, and his duties were greatly increased by the Chilean trouble. During his stay the president will avoid consideration of public business as far as possible.

FALSE CHILIAN NEWS.

World's Fair Commissioner Harlow Said
to Have Sent It.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—A special cable to The Herald from Valparaiso says: Judge of Crimes Noguera is conducting an investigation into the authorship of certain dispatches to a New York newspaper from this city. The agent of the company was summoned to testify. He said that the messages were signed Reamer. This is declared to have been the assumed name of Lieutenant Harlow, the world's fair commissioner to Chile. Valparaiso papers publish the facts in the case, and say they can not understand why Lieutenant Harlow, sent to Chile on a mission of peace on account of the world's fair, should spread such inflammatory news in the United States. They express hopes that the directors of the world's fair and the United States government will take cognizance of Lieutenant Harlow's actions. The telegraph manager also testified that Lieutenant Harlow received messages under the name of Reamer at the United States consulate. Public opinion is considerably excited against him and Consul McCreery. Lieutenant Harlow has all along denied sending any news abroad while Consul McCreery has stated publicly that he was not aware Harlow was doing anything of the kind.

KENDRICK, THE KILLER.

Smoked Out of His House, He Safely
Ran the Gauntlet.

SYLVANIA, Ga., Feb. 26.—Thomas Kendrick, the Emanuel county desperado, who for a week held off the combined forces of four counties, made a desperate escape from his enemies. Friday morning at 3 o'clock they fired the cabin by saturated kerosene balls, and with cocked guns awaited the doomed prisoner. When it became too hot for him in the house he rushed out, firing as he went, wounding so many of the officers that they scattered. They have now located him at another house and are in negotiation with him to leave the county, promising him safe conduct if he will go. Kendrick was tried for murder a year ago, and after acquittal asked the judge if he could be tried again for the offense, and upon assurance that he could not, he said: "Then I did murder the scoundrel, and there's more of them I want to kill."

Killing Off the Canines.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 26.—Tuesday a young woman called upon a druggist on the corner of North and Illinois, demanding ten cents' worth of strychnine, "to kill a dog." She was refused the poison. She went to another place within a square, and there procured what she wanted—"to kill a cat." In the evening Dr. W. B. Fletcher's thoroughbred Scotch collie was killed by the poison. Yesterday the envelope marked "strychnine," with the druggist's name on it, along with poisoned meat, were found in the alley back of V. T. Malott's residence. There are a dozen or more fine dogs, worth from $50 to $100, within a square of this locality. It has been determined by the owners to take the matter in hand and have this "Sal, the Slayer," arrested. Detectives were employed to work the matter up.

Violated the Oleomargarine Law.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 26.—James Balfour is the most extensive dealer in oleomargarine in Indianapolis perhaps. His sales amount to a great many thousands of pounds every year. Deputy United States Marshal Moore entered Mr. Balfour's place of business, on South Delaware street, and in the name of the government seized all the oleomargarine in stock, amounting to 4,455 pounds. He also arrested Mr. Balfour on a charge that the oleomargarine dealer has violated the law by selling his goods to retail grocers who have no license to handle them, and failing to report the names of such customers to the federal authorities, as the law requires.

Lost Money Recovered.

GREENFIELD, Ind., Feb. 26.—Mrs. Mary E. Thaw, a passenger on the west bound Pennsylvania Central vestibule train, yesterday morning dropped a wallet containing $1,000 in bonds and $266 cash through a small spot in a closet of one of the coaches near this city. She notified the conductor, who stopped and backed the train, but was unable to find the wallet. The section foreman at Philadelphia was then instructed to make search for the treasure, and he found it one mile east of this city and turned it over to Agent Scott. The latter has forwarded it to the superintendent, to be restored to the rightful owner.

County of Manslaughter.

TIPTON, Ind., Feb. 26.—Jesse Jacobs, of Boyleston, charged with killing his brother, was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury in the Tipton circuit court yesterday, and his punishment was fixed at six years' imprisonment. The case came here from Clinton county on a change of venue.

Two Acres of Fire.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 26.—This city was visited by a terrific fire yesterday. It started in the business portion of the city and before it could be gotten under control had consumed buildings covering nearly two acres of ground. The loss will be nearly $800,000.

Fire in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 26.—Forty thousand dollars' worth of stock belonging to the National Carriage and Reed company, of 236 and 238 West Pearl street, went up in smoke and was damaged by water at an early hour Thursday morning.

Heard Their Argument.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Secretary Elkins accorded a hearing yesterday morning to delegations from Covington, Ky., and Cincinnati, protesting against the erection of another bridge across the Ohio river at Covington, Ky.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

Industrial Conference Delegates
Leave St. Louis.

MOST OF THEM ARE SATISFIED.

A Few of the Southern Representatives
Find Some Fault and Do Not Think the
New Movement Will Amount to Much,
but Others Seem to Think Different.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 26.—There was a general exodus of the delegates to the industrial conference. Most of them expressed themselves as satisfied with the outcome of the gathering, although the representatives from Georgia, Louisiana and other southern states, freely confessed that if the platform of the Democratic convention covered the financial points of the platform adopted, the new movement would not cut much of a figure in their respective localities. The Kansas and Minnesota delegates, too, were inclined to be disgruntled over the decision to hold the presidential nominating convention on July 4, and the old politicians that manipulated this conference, including Weaver of Iowa, and Willets of Kansas, were soundly berated for their part in making the gathering follow those of the two old parties.

Yesterday morning the special committee appointed to select a place for the national convention met at the Richey hotel, when the claims of St. Louis, Indianapolis, Omaha, Kansas City, Kan., Birmingham, Ala., and Mobile were presented. The principal contest was between the first three. The committee wanted a guarantee of $50,000 for the expenses of the affair, but the guarantors were conspicuous by their silence. St. Louis offered a decorated hall free of charge, and later agreed to throw in a band. Omaha could not offer money, but its representatives promised to throw the electoral vote of Nebraska to the People's ticket as a reward for the convention. It was claimed that Indianapolis was ready to guarantee the necessary $50,000, but nobody was prepared to put it in black and white. When the committee adjourned for dinner no decision had been reached. The committee on address to the people, under the chairmanship of Ignatius Donnelly, agreed to call upon the independent voters of the country to meet within a month in their respective congressional districts and organize. The call includes the platform adopted by the convention.

Representative Taubeneck, of Illinois, says Omaha is the favorite in the race. Kansas City, Kan., has withdrawn in its favor.

FISHERS RUN IN.

Violators of the Fishing Law Arrested by Indiana Authorities.

MARION, Ind., Feb. 26.—Fishing in the Mississinewa river here for years has been spoiled by a notorious gang of seiners, whose clandestine operations were so successfully conducted as to elude capture. Today the gang is broken up. Augustus Depair, a veteran of the soldiers' home, formerly of Indianapolis, was caught making a haul with a set net. He is now in jail. A raid on Al Skinner's saloon disclosed two set nets, a gill net, a big seine and a ten-gallon jar filled with fish. The officers say they have enough charges against him to break him up in business. The gang numbered fifteen or twenty members, but is completely wiped out by the arrest of seven or eight characters yesterday. The local sportsmen are jubilant. They furnished the money to ferret out the law-breakers. The defendants will be bound over to the circuit court to be tried at the April term, when Fish Commissioner Dennis will superintend the prosecution.

THE BRIDE OF DEATH.

Suicided Because Her Lover Failed to Put in an Appearance.

LOUISA, Ky., Feb. 26.—Thomas Copley was to have been married to Miss Tennie Lambert, at her father's house, five miles from this place, Monday. The occasion was duly prepared for, a large number of guests assembled, and the minister was present at the appointed time, but the prospective groom failed to put in an appearance. The young lady was deeply grieved over the jilt, and her despondency continued to increase until noon Tuesday, when she took a dose of rat poison, which ended her existence in agony some hours afterward. She was an excellent young lady, and the daughter of a Baptist preacher. Copley is a man with many undesirable traits.

WANT $20,000

To Charter a Vessel to Carry Negro
Colonists to Liberia.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—The Rev. Dr. Thomas C. Addison, rector of Trinity church, Washington, and Reginald Fendall, of the same city, have come to this city, representing the American Colonization society in connection with the negroes who are stranded in New York. Mr. Fendall says:

"We had arranged for a year to transport a party of intended colonists from Morrelltown, Ark., and we had instructed them not to report in New York until March 9. They were booked for the next trip of our vessel. If we can raise $20,000 we will be able to charter another ship."

Foul Play Suspected.

PETERSBURG, Va., Feb. 26.—A special to The Index-Appeal from City Point Wednesday says: The body of a well dressed white man was found in a swamp near here Wednesday. It had been partially devoured by hogs. There are suspicions of foul play.

Gray company, Piqua, increase of capital stock from $300,000 to $500,000; Freedom Council No. 63, Junior Order United American Mechanics, Mansfield.

Fatal Accident.

MALTA, O., Feb. 26.—The greatest fatal accident in the history of the Zanesville and Ohio River railroad occurred near here yesterday. Charles Sherwood, aged about forty years, while lying drunk on a trestle below the town was struck by the north bound freight, severing both his legs, mashing his skull and instantly killing him.

Hand Burned Off.

JACKSON, O., Feb. 26.—John Turner had his left hand nearly burned off Tuesday night. On Saturday a mule bit his hand, and he had it tied up and saturated the cloths with turpentine. He was lighting his pipe when the cloth took fire, and before the flames could be extinguished his hand was burned to a crisp.

Deserted Her Husband for a Negro.

NELSONVILLE, O., Feb. 26.—Mrs. Sam McConahay, white, eloped with a colored man named Brooks. Mrs. McConahay's husband left her a short time ago on account of her intimacy with Brooks. Brooks went away, but came back Tuesday, and left again with the woman and her little daughter.

Governor's Appointments.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 26.—Governor McKinley has appointed Israel Williams, of Hamilton, Butler county, and W. J. Gilmore, of Columbus, Franklin county, as trustees of the Ohio Archaeological and Historical society for the term expiring Feb. 19, 1895.

Played With a Dynamite Cartridge.

LIMA, O., Feb. 26.—Harvey Collins, the ten-year-old son of George Collins, found a dynamite cartridge, which he exploded, mangle his left hand so that it had to be amputated. He was also badly injured in the side.

A Missing Postmaster.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 26.—The friends of Rev. J. B. Lewis, postmaster at New Holland and editor of The Plain Talk are alarmed over his prolonged absence. He has not been home since Saturday, Feb. 13, but was seen in Columbus a week later.

Under a Cloud.

LIMA, O., Feb. 26.—Mrs. Thomas Cleminger was very seriously burned by a natural gas explosion. She was assisting a number of ladies in preparing supper at the Presbyterian church.

A MYSTERY SOLVED

By the Ghastly Find of a Party of Coon
Hunters Near Dublin, Ky.

PADUCAH, Ky., Feb. 26.—Seven years ago Henry Hayden and Robert Price lived near Dublin, Ky. They were brothers-in-law, and could not get along. One day Hayden suddenly disappeared, and Price was suspected of having killed him.

A close search failed to develop the whereabouts of Hayden's body or establish Price's guilt, and so the matter became a mystery. Shortly afterward Price took his family and the family of Hayden and went to Texas to live, and is now there.

Tuesday a party of coon hunters felled a tree near Hayden's old home to dislodge a varmint. Instead they brought to light a man's skeleton, which from papers in the clothing thereof proves to be the remains of those of Hayden. Large shot in the clothing also tell of how he died.

Only a small knot-hole showed the tree to be hollow, and Hayden must have been crowded in a hole at the bottom, which was afterward covered with dirt. As only circumstantial evidence can be brought against Price, he will hardly be molested. The find has made quite a sensation in the locality, however.

In Financial Trouble.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Feb. 26.—In the circuit court yesterday, Attorney M. Winfield made an application for the appointment of a receiver for the Indiana Natural Gas and Pipe Line company. The application is backed by a complaint that the company is disposing of its property and is largely indebted to the law firms of Winfield & Tabor and Dykeman, Wilson & Tabor. The court granted the application and appointed Quincy A. Myers receiver. This is the company that is piping natural gas from the Kokomo gas fields to Chicago, and which leased thousands of acres of gas lands in and around Kokomo. The company recently succeeded in laying their pipes over the bed of the Wabash and Erie canal, after a long legal fight.

Car Robbers Arrested.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 26.—Yesterday Detective I. A. Gorman arrested Ed Brown and W. E. Roberts on a charge of larceny, but the case against them is that of pilfering from cars. Both are brakemen employed on the Indianapolis and Vincennes division of the road, and Roberts is a man of family. It is expected that these arrests will develop facts leading to the apprehension of others who have been robbing the company. It is said that a conspiracy to steal among certain employees of the road exists, but Superintendent Mansfield says he has no knowledge of it.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1892.

PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND, Democrats have selected delegates to the State convention which will choose delegates to the coming National convention, and nineteen out of the twenty-six are for Cleveland.

Mr. SPRINGER is one of the politicians Senator Hill "pocketed" several weeks ago. In the face of late events that transpired at Washington, Mr. S.'s manifesto calling on Grover Cleveland to step aside for Mr. Hill causes a smile to take possession of the faces of the knowing ones. Mr. S. is simply playing his part in the Tammany-Dana-Hill game to capture the Democratic nomination.

THE STATE'S LAW-MAKERS.

Items of Interest Gleaned From the Proceedings of the General Assembly.

In the House Thursday, Mr. McInerney brought up the Boman-Brown controversy, by the introduction of a resolution reciting that charges of cruelty have been made against Boman, and that it is due to the Warden and to the State that an investigation of the charges be made. It provides that the Committee on State Prisons shall make the investigation. Being a joint resolution, it lies over a day.

Mr. Wilson's telephone bill was reported favorably by the committee.

The House Judiciary Committee reported a substitute for the Frazee bill providing for borrowing the $600,000 direct tax. The substitute is only slightly different from the bill, and it was passed almost unanimously.

The lottery bill was postponed until next Wednesday morning.

Senator Geibel's bill, entitled an act relating to consolidated corporations or organized under general laws for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating bridges across the Ohio river, and declaring an emergency, was reported from the Senate Committee on Corporations with the unanimous expression of opinion that it should pass.

In the Senate, Mr. Poyntz's bill providing for a stenographer in each Circuit Court district was passed by a vote of 24 to 5, with an amendment leaving the length of the term of office and the fees of the stenographer—under certain restrictions—discretionary with the Circuit Court Judge.

The House resolution requesting the Auditor to report the compensation paid Assessors during four years prior to the passage of the Hewitt bill was concurred in.

The Senate committee on re-apportioning the State into judicial districts has completed its work. A conference of the Senate and House Committee will be held at an early day to decide on a final report. According to the Senate Committee's arrangement Mason County will be in the Twenty-sixth district, composed of Bracken, Mason, Fleming, Lewis and Greenup counties.

For the Farmer.

Dover tobacco dealers have up to date purchased about 200,000 pounds of tobacco.

In the past three weeks the sale of horses at Lexington footed up nearly $800,000.

Eight hundred cattle were on the market at Winchester last court day. Plain feeders ranged from 3 to 3½ cents per pound.

There is a big demand for tobacco cotton. Farmers are preparing for a big crop this season. Burning beds and sowing seed is the order of the day now.

W. Z. Thomson sold from less than two and one-half acres of land, four hogsheads of tobacco. The trash and lugs at the Bodmann House, Cincinnati, brought $8.95 and $19; the red and bright leaf at the Planter's House, Louisville, $16.76 $26.50 per hundred pounds, averaging $17.80, and bringing a total of $780.95.—Georgetown (Ky.) Times.

The Advance says: "Robertson County land that costs $25 per acre will produce a thousand pounds of tobacco, the quality of which is unexcelled anywhere and which will command the top prices in any market, and if properly fertilized can be cultivated in tobacco two years out of four. Land in the blue grass region which cost $50 per acre will not produce upon an average, more than 1,000 pounds to the acre, and that of a coarse, unsalable quality."

Near Washington, Penn., People Are not slow about taking hold of a new thing, if the article has merit. A few months ago D. Byers, of that place, bought his first stock of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sold it all and ordered more. He says: "It has given the best of satisfaction. I have warranted every bottle, and have not had one to come back." Twenty-five-cent, 50-cent and $1 bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds.

MOORE'S PAPER.

Reason Why This Week's Issue of the Blue Grass Blade Was Suppressed.

It Contained an Article on Judge Soule Smith, and He Went After the Editor.

A special from Lexington, dated Feb. 24th, to the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette says: "A sensation occurred on East Short street this afternoon about 4:30 o'clock, when Judge J. Soule Smith, of the Recorder's Court, accosted Charles C. Moore, editor of the Blue Grass Blade. Moore was walking down the street and Smith was standing on the opposite side of the thoroughfare. He ran across the street with his heavy cane grasped in his right hand, and rapidly approaching Moore called to him to stop. Moore did so. Smith came very close to him, and shaking his finger in his face warned him not to publish anything in the next issue of the Blade reflecting on his (Smith's) family, or anything that could be construed as a reflection. He talked to Moore for nearly five minutes, and among other things he said: 'I warn you again not to print anything that will reflect on my family, for if you do I will make you fight. You have excused yourself in the past by cowardice, and your friends have made excuses for you by saying you were insane. But no such excuse will prevent me from making you take the consequences if you reflect on my family.'"

"Moore walked up the street and showed the Commercial Gazette correspondent an advance copy of his paper. It contained a seven-column article on Judge Smith, the principal portion of which was given to a refutation of the charges made by Judge Smith in his letter to the Louisville Times, in which he scored Moore unmercifully. Moore said that he believed Smith would kill him if the article should appear in the paper, and as the edition, comprising three thousand copies, had already been printed, Moore concluded that he would suppress the paper for this week. He accordingly wrote a note to his printer when on the point of boarding a Cincinnati Southern train for Georgetown, telling him not to send out any papers.

"It is learned that Judge Smith obtained a copy of the paper at the printer's, and that he is furious over the article mentioned. He threatens to bring an action against the printer, and to wreak vengeance on Moore.

"The Blue Grass Blade is a prohibition weekly newspaper that has been running as such for more than a year. It has gained great notoriety and a wide circulation, owing to the original methods of its editor, and to his habit of 'roasting' some prominent person or persons every week.

"Moore is an ex-minister of the Christian Church, is a grandson of the famous pioneer preacher, Barton W. Stone; is a distant relative of Queen Victoria, of England, and is perhaps the best known and most generally abused newspaper man in the State. His friends have been expecting him to be killed, and should Judge Smith shoot him down on sight no one would be surprised. Moore says he is a non-combatant, and that, rather than fight Smith, he will sacrifice his paper this week.

"Smith is an ex-Confederate, and is a well known newspaper writer, over the non de plum, 'Falcon'."

It's only a question of time when some of the men whom Moore "roasts" in his paper, will do some "roasting" themselves, and in an entirely different way.

How He "Popped" the Question.

The Carlisle Mercury says: "The breach of promise suit brought by Miss Lottie Case against Jeff Bryant is now on trial in the Bourbon Common Pleas Court. She is about twenty-two and he is an old widower aged sixty, and nglier than frozen mud. Mr. Bryant told on the witness stand how he 'popped' the question. He said: 'We were riding along the pike in a buggy, and I said, Lottie, would you marry if you had a good chance?' and she looked up and said 'I would.' I then said: 'How would I suit you?' and she said 'first rate,' and I said 'all right.' There may not be much poetry about that, but it looks business like."

"ENTRANCED THE AUDIENCE."

What One of New York's Leading Music and Dramatic Journals Says of Margaret Reid Kackley.

For some reason known only to the management, the name of Miss Van Zandt, which had been announced in the advertisements for the role of Ophelia in the production of Ambrose Thomas' "Hamlet" on the 10th instant, was withdrawn on the last day and that of Miss Margaret Reid substituted. The audience assembled at the Metropolitan Opera House did not seem to be specially pleased at this change. Nobody seemed to know who Miss Margaret Reid was, or why the name of Miss Van Zandt was withdrawn. There were various stories afloat in the corridors after the first act. One wiseacre declared that the young lady's friends had agreed to buy one thousand dollars' worth of tickets so as to secure for her an appearance; a veteran manager believed that, as Miss Van Zandt received a thousand dollars every night she sang, it was decided (in view of the poor prospects at the box office) to withdraw her for the evening, and put in her place the unknown girl, who would sing for nothing, glad to get a chance to be heard.

But whatever may have been the reason for the debut, people were free to confess that they were well pleased with the debutante.

"A charming voice," said one.

"A lovely style," said another.

"Notice her chromatic runs," said one old musician.

"She cannot act," said an old actor, "but she has ability and ought to take lessons of me. I would give her stage deportment."

"Whitlaw Reid, our Minister at Paris, has a niece studying music abroad," said a society man. "Perhaps this is the girl."

"Who is her teacher?" demanded an Italian professor, inwardly wishing he could claim her as his pupil. So there were whisperings and buzzings on every side. The ladies in the boxes thought the new comer "lovely," though her blonde hair, dainty complexion and not too expressive face did suggest a wax doll.

In the earlier acts of Ambrose Thomas' "Hamlet" there is not much for the prima donna. The only aria had been heartily encored. The concerted passages to which Miss Reid's voice lent such charm had been well applauded; but the opera is long, the waits between the acts enough to wear out the patience of Job, and those of the audience who had to catch out-of-town trains or lived at a distance began to depart. Before midnight the critics of the morning papers trotted away. They had heard enough to see that the new comer was a success, and they recorded this verdict.

But they were utterly ignorant of the fact that after midnight Miss Margaret Reid made one of the greatest hits ever known on the lyric stage—certainly for a debutante. In the mad scene with which the opera closes, Ophelia appears in the white robes which etiquette prescribes for all crazy heroines on the stage, her hair entwined with fantastic garlands of "crow-flowers, nettles, daisies and long purples." She has the scene to herself, only an invisible chorus at times singing a gentle melody. The music of Thomas is here difficult, though exquisitely sweet. It abounds in difficulties and strange intervals and chromatic runs. Miss Margaret Reid looked, acted and sang this scene to perfection. The audience was entranced. The curtain fell at twenty minutes after midnight, yet the singer, a stranger to almost all in the house, was called five times before the curtain, the audience standing, cheering and waving hats and handkerchiefs. It was a memorable scene, and the young singer must have deemed it the greatest experience of her life.

The next day the affair was the talk of the town in musical circles. The press has but feebly given expression to the general sentiment. Here was a pleasing and charming personality, a lovely, velvety voice and excellent style, all embodied in a girl from Indianapolis, of whom very few had ever heard. The noble Hamlet of Lassalle, the Frenchman; the dramatic Queen of Giulia Ravogli, the Roman, were forgotten. Margaret Reid, of Indiana, was the sensation of the evening.—Sport, Music and Drama.

LITIGATION.

It Looks Like There's Lots of It Ahead for Some Sixth Ward Property Owners.

Suit Soon To Be Filed by Capt. Riggs, to Recover an Interest in Forty-Seven Acres.

It looks very much like there is considerable litigation ahead for a good many of the property-owners of the Sixth ward. Suit will soon be filed in the Mason Circuit Court by Captain Wm. Riggs, of Aberdeen, to recover an interest in forty-seven acres of land located in that part of the city that was formerly known as Chester. The land formerly belonged to his father.

Captain Riggs' father died about 1850, leaving a wife and five children. Some time afterwards Captain Riggs conveyed his fifth interest in the estate to John Riggs, one of his brothers. In the division of the property which was made after this, the forty-seven acres was assigned to the widow as her dower, the land south of Race street, embracing the old trotting park, being apportioned among the children, John Riggs taking his own share and that of his brother William. The widow, of course, had only a life estate in the forty-seven acres, the land going after her death to the children in fee.

Among the children was one daughter, Miss Ruth. She died before she arrived at the age of twenty years and the four surviving children inherited her portion of the estate. After her death Captain Wm. Riggs conveyed to one of his brothers the interest he had inherited from his sister in her lot south of Race street, the deed giving a particular description of the lot.

In later years, the forty-seven acres of land was sold, the widow and all the children except Captain Riggs joining in the conveyance. It seems that the fact was overlooked that Captain Riggs had inherited one-fourth of his sister Ruth's interest in the dower—the forty-seven acres. The sister was entitled to one-fifth of the dower, and it is this one-fourth of one-fifth of the forty-seven acres that Captain Riggs will soon begin suit to recover. His mother died only a year or so ago.

The land embraces all of the original town of Chester beyond the Holiday strip to the old Taylor line just above the street car stables, and between Race street and the river. There are about seventy property owners interested. They, of course, hold deeds of general warranty, and can fall back on the parties from whom they bought the property. It looks like it will require several years' litigation to settle the matter.

Messrs. L. W. Galbraith and E. L. Worthington are Captain Riggs' attorneys.

A bill is pending in the Ohio Legislature which provides that any person found engaged in the business of barbering on Sunday shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than $25 nor more than $50, or imprisoned in the county jail for a period of not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days, or be both fined and imprisoned, at the discretion of the court. The bill has passed the House, and will likely become a law.

The Value of Advertising.

"Advertising is to commerce what steam is to an engine," says London Engineering. "That is a recognized fact. A firm, even with the greatest reputation for integrity and for scrupulous adherence to superiority in products, cannot now sit still and wait till orders are received. The spirit of the age, so far as commerce is concerned, is competition in contradistinction to the monopoly of the past. Where one firm two or three years ago was alone in the production of a commodity in an area of greater or less size, there are now several, all equally able, equally willing. Such firms find it profitable to create an interest in their work by keeping their names before the public, and by educating prospective clients as to their products and their mode of constructing these."

Miss Nannie Cartmell, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ben F. Wolfe, at Dallas, Texas, where she is being elegantly entertained.

THE people have an opportunity to buy goods of W. L. Thomas & Brother at lower prices than ever offered before. The stock must go, as they have to give up their store room in a very short time.

THERE will be a grand rush to the old soldiers' bazar at Neptune Hall to-night. The Gibney, Gordon & Gibney orchestra has volunteered to give a grand concert at the hall after the entertainment at the opera house.

REV. Wm. A. BORUM will preach at the Baptist Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and Sunday evening at 7:15 o'clock. The members of the church are urged to be present. The public cordially invited.

THE diamond rings, diamond pins, diamond ear-drops, diamond studs and diamond necklaces at Ballenger's jewelry store are as lovely and as elegant as any ever seen. For anything in the diamond line go to Ballenger.

H. C. BARKLEY'S Spot Cash Shoe Store, beginning with to-morrow (Saturday), will give to every customer going by street car to his house and making a purchase, a ticket free, with which to return home on street car, without cost.

BEING compelled to give up their store room about the first of March, W. L. Thomas & Brother have made a still further reduction in their prices and are now offering any thing in their immense stock at prices never before offered in this market.

JUDGE COLE and Commonwealth's Attorney Salles have returned from Greenup. Court was in session but four days. The fines assessed amounted to $600, paying all expenses of the court and leaving a balance of $495.91 to be turned into the State treasury.

MR. M. Y. SMITH, of Aberdeen, has returned from a three-weeks' sojourn at Detroit. He has accepted a position as traveling salesman for Scotten's big tobacco factory of that city, the second largest in the country. His territory embraces Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia and Southern Ohio.

ATTENTION is called to the advertisement of Master Commissioner Cole. He will sell the farm of the late Mrs. Lucy Hunter at public auction to-morrow at 2 p. m., on the premises on the Washington pike, three miles from Maysville. It is good land, is well improved and is a splendid home for one who wants a small farm.

THE Frankfort correspondent of the Elizabethtown News says: "Dr. Frazee, the member from Mason, stands over six feet. He is a good specimen of Kentucky mankind. He is a tobacco and grain merchant now, but was a surgeon in the Confederate army. He is a handsome, affable man, with no demagoguery in his composition. He is Chairman of the Revenue and Taxation Committee, and says plain, practical things in a modest, sensible way. This is his second term, and he had no opposition and does not deserve any next time."

Obituary.

In memory of our little friend and school mate, Lorena Murphy.

Adown Death's lone any mystic vale
God's messenger was sent,
To bear away Lorena dear,
Ere childhood's day was spent.

Fond hearts will miss this little child,
With face so sweetly pure;
The grace of soul that face portrayed,
Bright men and angels lure.

Only a few short months ago,
Kneet she 'midst chosen few,
To share the Eucharistic Feast,
With joy serene and true.

Prophetic were our Bishop's words,
That ere one year had sped,
Some member of the white robed band,
Would slumber with the dead.

Marhap this little one then heard
"My child thou art the one—
Preserve thy soul from stain of sin
'Till I shall bid thee come."

Ah! soon He called His favored child,
To her sweet home above,
To share with saints and angels pure,
And endless Feast of Love.

So weep not, mother, sisters, dear,
Lorena lives on high;
For they who fall asleep in Christ,
Cannot be said to die.

RIOT IN BERLIN.

Big Demonstration of Unemployed Workingmen.

ALMOST AT THE EMPEROR'S GATE

Thousands Gather at the Statue of Frederick the Great and March to the Imperial Palace—The Leaders are Beaten Back by the Police and There is Ignominious Flight.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—A Berlin dispatch, printed here says the emperor's speech to the members of the Brandenburg diet, who banqueted him has caused a sensation. An instance of the heated passions of the masses was exemplified at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. At the hour mentioned a body of 8,000 or 4,000 unemployed met, by preconcerted arrangement in a public square and passed a series of inflammatory resolutions, denouncing their employer and the system of government which enabled the latter to crush the workingmen beneath the iron heel of capital, and calling upon the government to take steps to protect the interests of the working classes.

The news of this bold gathering in defiance of the recent order of the authorities, prohibiting such meetings, spread with rapidity throughout the city. The result was that the social agitators determined to take advantage of the excitement and made a demonstration before the castle of the emperor.

Led by the socialist agitators the workmen formed in column and marched from the square mentioned in the direction of Unter den Linden, the most celebrated avenue in Berlin. The onward sweep of the workmen was at first irresistible. The police were utterly unable to cope with that roaring, swelling enthusiastic crowd, shouting and cheering, encouraged by thousands of other persons who watched their progress through the streets.

On arriving beneath the statue of Frederick the Great, a halt was made and a socialist leader made a passionate address to the throng, urging them to carry their demonstration up to the gates of the castle. Loud cheers greeted the suggestion and then, at a signal from a prominent socialist, who seemed to be the chosen leader, the workmen began singing the "Marseillaise," and marched, cheered by thousands who had gathered in the broad avenue to witness the demonstration, toward the castle.

The workmen passing through a line of police which barred their passage had nearly reached the castle gates when a strong detachment of police threw themselves across the short portion of the thoroughfare intervening between the rioters and the castle, and made a determined charge upon the head of the workmen's column.

The latter for a moment or so, nerved by the roaring cheers of thousands, bravely and stubbornly withstood the attack of the police, and pressed onward by those in the rear, actually managed to gain headway and to beat back the powerful police detachment.

The latter, however, rallied, and hitting furiously right and left, wounded scores upon scores of workmen, who fell bleeding beneath the feet of the officers of the law. Somebody among the workmen called upon them to retreat and come again some other day 100,000 strong and prepared to meet the emperor's butchers, as they called them.

A retreat then commenced and soon developed into a flight and into a panic. The police after taking from eighty to a hundred prisoners seemed content to allow the remainder to escape.

The sixty to seventy wounded rioters who remained upon the field of battle were then attended to at a neighboring hospital, and the regular prisoners were placed under lock and key.

NO AUTHORITY

For the Address Issued to the Irish Citizens of This Country.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—The officers of the Irish National League of America deny in the most positive terms that any authority has been given for the publication of an address purporting to emanate from the league calling on the Irish people in this country to subscribe funds for the coming parliamentary election. They say that the publication was made without their being consulted.

Treasurer William Lyman stated that he never saw the address until he read it in the newspapers. He is entirely opposed to its contents as being directly at variance with the league, which refuses to recognize factions or individuals.

Secretary Sutton was also without knowledge of the address, and stated that he did not approve of it.

Still No Cars Moving.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 26.—The usual program was followed by the street car company yesterday, an ineffectual effort being made to run a car out of the Louisiana street barn with which the strikers interfered, and all of which was reported to the mayor by President Frenzel. The latter is getting to be quite a letter-writer, considering that none of his communications are answered. The mayor continues his policy of refusing to protect the company in the running of cars.

Inhumanity to Children.

FRANKLIN, Ind., Feb. 26.—The report of the grand jury of Johnson county, before Judge Hackney, yesterday, shows that the orphan's home, near Hopewell, is a disgrace to the county. The children were found insufficiently clothed and insufficiently fed. The rooms are desolate-looking and many of them damp and unfit for occupancy. For several weeks the citizens have been indignant over this state of affairs, and it is probable decisive action will be taken soon.

A Third Party Convention.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 26.—The executive officers of the People's party have issued a call for a convention of that party to be held in Omaha, July 4, 1892, to nominate a national ticket.

CONGRESS.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The vice president being absent from the city, the president pro tem. Mr. Manderson, called the senate to order.

The rainfall report of Mr. Dyrenfurth was presented.

A bill was introduced to authorize the construction of a bridge across the Mississippi river at New Orleans.

Mr. Vest, according to notice, called up Mr. Hale's resolution, requesting copies of agreements with other countries relating to interchange of trade, and moved an amendment inquiring whether any negotiations had been successfully inaugurated to secure reciprocity with Mexico, and, if so, what had been the cause of such. Upon this basis he proceeded to make a sarcastic and vigorous speech.

House.

After the submission of reports from various committees, Mr. Brown, Democrat, of Indiana, called up the contested election case of Craig vs. Stewart, from the Twenty-fourth Pennsylvania district.

THE MORE THE MERRIER.

Another Great Hall Must Be Constructed for the Fair.

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—Director General Davis will shortly ask to have another great exhibit hall constructed at the world's fair grounds. He wants more exhibit space. The pressure upon him for space is tremendous both from within and without this country. "The demands for space," said General Davis Wednesday, "are something unparalleled in the history of world's fairs. The need for additional space is not the fault of the local directory nor of the national commission. It is a contingency that could not be foreseen. No one expected so many nations would respond to the invitation of President Harrison to participate in the fair. This is to be a 'world's fair' in every sense of the word."

Japan's offer to construct a $60,000 permanent building on the wooden island in Jackson park and surround it with a specimen of Japanese landscape gardening, has been adopted by the South Park board of commissioners.

Consecrated a Bishop.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26.—With the splendid ceremonies in the ritual of the Roman Catholic church, Right Rev. Ignatius F. Horstmann, chancellor of the archdiocese of Philadelphia, was Thursday morning elevated to the high dignity of bishop of the see of Cleveland. The impressive ceremony was performed in the spacious cathedral in the presence of three archbishops, thirteen bishops, five monsignors, hundreds of priests and an immense congregation.

Owing to Dr. Horstmann's great popularity among the people of all denominations in this native city, there has been an unprecedented demand for tickets of admittance to the cathedral, and it was found on Tuesday evening that tickets for every seat in the great diocesan church had been distributed. Many applicants were, therefore, disappointed in obtaining admittance.

A Gift, Pure and Simple.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—General J. V. Meserole has given $5,000 to Mrs. Theodore Larbig, widow of the man who was killed by his son, Darwin J. Meserole, in Mrs. Comstock's flat, Brooklyn, last July. Suit for $5,000 was brought on behalf of Mrs. Larbig against General Meserole shortly after the shooting. When young Meserole was acquitted of the charge of murder, Mrs. Larbig's suit was abandoned, as there was no chance of winning it. General Meserole heard last week that Mrs. Larbig was in straitened circumstances and concluded to take the action referred to.

Prisoners Revolt.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 26.—At the state penitentiary, at Wetumpka, yesterday, two white convicts, William Gibson and George Marshall, were shot and killed by Arthur Jones, guard. Jones had a squad of convicts working outside the walls, when Gibson and Marshall sprang upon and attempted to disarm him. Three other convicts came to the guard's rescue and beat the assailants off with clubs. Gibson and Marshall then ran, and as Jones regained his feet he shot them.

Declared Insane.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 26.—Miss Florence M. Silvermail, whose violent attack of insanity created great excitement on a Monon train a few weeks ago, and who since that time has been reported to be recovering, has suffered another severe relapse. Yesterday she was legally adjudged insane. The physicians upon the commission believe she may be cured by proper treatment and discipline in a hospital.

The Quay-Post Libel Sentences.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 26.—Judge Porter passed sentence in the Quay-Post libel case as follows: "That the Post Publishing company pay $300 to the commonwealth; A. J. Barr $50 to the commonwealth, and James Mills $50 to the commonwealth. Judge Porter stated that no malice was shown in the publication, that it was done during a heated campaign and was due to negligence more than from motive."

Stepbrothers Fight—One Killed.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Feb. 26.—Near Frazer, William Anderson and Mortimer Shockley, stepbrothers, quarreled over the division of a deceased relative's wealth. Shockley seized an ax and struck Anderson, knocking him down. A desperate fight ensued, but finally Anderson broke away, ran into the house, returned with a shotgun and emptied two charges of shot into Shockley's body, killing him.

Insane from Heat.

BRAZIL, Ind., Feb. 26.—Corvin Moudy, a young man employed in the works of the Central Iron and Steel company, became overheated last evening. The affliction affected him strangely. He lost his mind and fought like a madman, at times requiring a half dozen men to hold him. His condition is pitiful, and it is feared he will die.
